DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. It is noted that the invention as claimed is directed to "a method for encoding a video, comprising the steps of". Such invention is non-statutory: Because; the invention as claimed is not falling within one of the four statutory categories of invention. Supreme Court precedent and recent Federal Circuit decisions indicate that a statutory "process" under 35 U.S.C. 101 must (1) be tied to another statutory category (such as a particular apparatus), or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing. While the instant claim(s) recite a series of steps or acts to be performed, the claim(s) neither transform underlying subject matter nor positively tie to another statutory category that accomplishes the claimed method steps, and therefore do not qualify as a statutory process. For example the invention fails to positively tie to another statutory class or structure by the inventive steps of the claim, such as device or apparatus recited within the claims to accomplish the method claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Patrizio Campisi (Wavelet transform based videoconferencing system with spatio-temporal scalability).

Regarding claim 1, Patrizio discloses, a method for encoding a video (page 850, abstract) comprising; dividing the video into a group of frames (page 851, section II, video scalability), temporally filtering the frames to provide at least first and second temporal decomposition levels (page 855, fig. 5), determining at least two motion vectors from the first decomposition level (page 857, fig. 6), estimating at least one motion vector on the second temporal decomposition level as a refinement of the at least two motion vectors from the first temporal decomposition level (page 857, fig. 6, ME) and encoding the at least two motion vectors from the first temporal decomposition level (page 857, fig. 6, coder).

Regarding claim 2, Patrizio discloses the method according to claim 1, further comprising the step of encoding the estimated at least one motion vector of the second temporal decomposition level (page 857, ME and coder as shown in the figure).

Regarding claims 3-5, the limitations claimed are substantially similar to claims 1-2 above; therefore the ground for rejecting claims 1-2 also applies here.

Regarding claim 6, please refer to the statements made in the rejection of claim 2 above.

Regarding claim 7-10, please refer to the statements made in the rejection of the above claims.

Regarding claim 11, Patrizio discloses, a apparatus for encoding a video (page 850, abstract) comprising; means for dividing the video into a group of frames (page 851, section II, video scalability, fig. 6), means for temporally filtering the frames to provide at least first and second temporal decomposition levels (page 855, fig. 5), means for determining at least two motion vectors from the first decomposition level (page 857, fig. 6), means for estimating at least one motion vector on the second temporal decomposition level as a refinement of the at least two motion vectors from the first temporal decomposition level (page 857, fig. 6, ME) and means for encoding the at least two motion vectors from the first temporal decomposition level (page 857, fig. 6, coder).

Regarding claim 12, Patrizio discloses, further comprising means for encoding the estimated at least one motion vector of the second temporal decomposition level (page 857, ME and coder as shown in the figure).

Regarding claim 1318, please refer to the statements made in the rejection of the above claims.
